Bunnies on the Bayou made a substantial contribution of $12,000 to Avenue 360 Health and Wellness in support of the “Omega House” Program. Omega House, situated in Montrose, provides vital hospice care to individuals suffering from HIV/AIDS. Many of these patients face financial hardship, lack access to care, and suffer without a support network. Bunnies on the Bayou’s funding enables 24/7 personalized care, including pain management and emotional support, regardless of income.

Established over 35 years ago, Omega House has made a significant impact by providing end-of-life care that values quality of life, symptom management, and dignity, irrespective of discrimination or judgment. The program’s history is rooted in the need to support individuals ostracized by society during the early days of the HIV/AIDS epidemic.

With a patient demographic profile that includes predominantly males, diverse ethnicities, a substantial LGBTQ+ population, and individuals living at or below the federal poverty line, Omega House is dedicated to serving those in their final stages of HIV/AIDS diagnosis with comprehensive hospice care.
